

SharePoint® Application & Development Solutions

Connecting People, Places, Technology and Processes

Centralized Content Management and Collaboration Tools are key elements for overseeing the management of enterprise content. Building*i* can provide Information Professionals with the knowledge environment, agile support and development they need, as soon as they need it.

Building*i*'s Business Technology Solutions team has hundreds of data migrations, website deployments and technology implementations under our belts allowing us to apply our expertise in Enterprise Content Management

One of our greatest strengths is creating web-based solutions that solve business needs using the Microsoft® SharePoint® platform. Through this service area, we provide Professional Services, Implementation and Configuration expertise, and custom development for SharePoint®.

Building*i* delivers innovative information management solutions by leveraging the latest SharePoint® technology, including eDiscovery and Web Applications and Responsive Designs, through solutions that meet functionality and usability needs of users who access information across multiple devices.

Our consultants help envision, design and implement your environment. Whether you need someone to manage your in-house solutions or develop a custom solution for your organization, Building*i*'s Business Technology Solutions team has what you need.

About Us

Building*i* is a technical services consulting company. Our clients come to us for tailored technology platforms that allow them to succeed in enterprise content management, SharePoint® site customization, worker and vendor collaboration, eDiscovery, business intelligence, and large-scale facilities & real estate portfolio management.

By connecting people, places, technology and processes, Building*i* helps companies across the globe improve service, reduce costs and increase productivity through development and implementation of management software applications, tools and sustaining services. Building*i* guidance, tools and data support have been empowering our clients since 1994.

